About Eboni

In her early life, from all outward appearances, Eboni appeared to be on the road to becoming yet another urban statistic. She refused, however, to allow her rough start to define her destiny. While Eboni's uphill journey took place in the face of many trials, upsets, stops-and-starts, she nonetheless persisted, inspiring many others along the way to pursue their dreams, as well. She uses her story as a tale of aspiration, encouraging others by telling them "YOU HAVE THE POWER TO WIN!"

Eboni Montsho is a native of Chicago, Illinois. She is the CEO of 360 HR Solutions, a human resource consulting firm. She is also the founder of the Purpose and Passion Foundation and the author of the book "The Accountability Code."

Purpose & Passion Foundation

The Purpose & Passion Foundation was created to place domestic violence survivors on the successful side of life's equation. This organization is dedicated to reigniting the purpose and passion to live within each and every woman that they encounter. Anyone who has endured such a difficult time in life will fight to move past traumatic residue. The purpose of this foundation is to remind women that they CAN heal, they CAN grow, and they CAN be successful!

Dedicated to educating and empowering, the Purpose and Passion Foundation has one agenda – to catapult women towards personal and professional growth. The goal is to equip women with the tools needed to create their own extraordinary lives. From raising awareness to providing training, purpose is fulfilled with every event and encounter.

One sure-fire way to eliminate excuses in your life is to embrace the Art of Accountability. If your desire is to attain any level of success, you must recognize the need to unlock the code and move forward. Luckily, Author and Accountability Coach Eboni Montsho has unlocked the code and is prepared to share her success with each of you. This book contains the blueprint that will enable you to climb higher heights and smash goals in record time. As a young woman who has endured several bumps in life, Eboni has learned how detrimental it is to remain in the same position. At one point in her life, fear, doubt, and low self-worth caused her to become stagnant and tried to sabotage her progress. The path she has walked has afforded her the opportunity of being a trusted voice within the marketplace, the ministry, and beyond. In life, it does not matter where you are, but what matters is where you are headed. Without a S.M.A.R.T.T. accountability plan, you will have difficulties discovering your purpose and reaching your full potential. Within this powerful book, Eboni will demonstrate how to release the champion inside and achieve victory in every aspect of your life.

You will learn how to dismantle every obstacle. You will learn that accountability is no longer optional, it is essential. Most importantly, you will learn how to divorce your excuses and marry manifestation.

THE WAITING ROOM

This popular message parallels our process of waiting to that of being in the emergency room. While our situations seem emergent, we find ourselves becoming irritated by delays. But what we don't recognize is that there is a process to everything. And if we can grasp that all things work for our good, even delays, we can see the waiting room as a place of preparation and not a place of postponing. Within this talk, you will learn the importance of The Waiting Room with the following acronymical approach:

- * Willingness to Walk By Faith
- * Appreciate the Season
- * Invite Wisdom
- * Trust the Process

All elements will enable you to appreciate your "stay" in The Waiting Room and embrace the lessons that await you. If you've ever struggled with waiting or seeing the purpose in delays, this is the perfect keynote for your group or event! Book this message today!

I DISRUPT ME!

Before now, disruptions have not always been welcomed. However, the right disruption at the right time can cause growth and healing. Within this keynote, Eboni Montsho highlights what we need to disrupt, or destroy, within so that we may manifest and succeed.

- * Choosing Freedom – the ability to welcome freedom and disrupt bondage (mentally, physically, emotionally, and spiritually)
- * Mirror Experience – the ability to look at self, be honest, and disrupt the lies you've told yourself or the ones you've believed
- * Winner's Ingredient – the ability to see the power within, disrupting the excuses to quit
- * Peeling the Layers – the ability to disassociate from the masks and disrupt the need to hide behind pains of the past

If you or someone you know are in need of a positive disruption, this message is for you! Book the message today and allow Coach Eboni to take you from disruption to destiny.
